

Michelle Hunt, CCTE, GTP

Michelle Hunt is the Regional Category Manager, Travel Service for Deutsche Post DHL overseeing North & South America and the Caribbean and the Global Lead for the Hotel Program. She has direct responsibility for both Procurement & Operations for all T&E related categories.

For more than 20 years as both a supplier and a corporate travel program manager, Michelle has developed strategic programs to meet the diverse needs of her internal business partner resulting in best in class programs, processes and savings. This includes creating an Ambassador Program for travel policy & program champions in the field.

Continuing the crusade to improve communication, Michelle has developed a 4-E principle: Engage, Educate, Elevate & Evolve. By understanding suppliers' business needs in addition to informing them about DHL's corporate and traveler needs benefits all.

Michelle is an active member in GBTA recently serving as the Government Relations liaison for AZBTA and participating on the Technology Committee of GBTA. She has earned both her CCTE and GTP certifications as a travel professional. In 2012, she was named as one of BTN's Top 25 Most Influential Travel Executives and a Best Practitioner.
